

ANDY HALL HALL BIOGRAPHY

Andy is a producer and songwriter working out of his studio in Battersea, South London. He started his career as a guitarist & vocalist, but soon turned his interest to production after co-writing The Other Tribe's summer hit song 'Skirts' in 2012. His time playing in bands has fuelled his creativity and attention to detail, while his experience as both a live and studio engineer, has armed him with the necessary knowledge to produce crystal clear, powerful and exciting records.

He produced the majority of James Gillespie's debut album 'Safe', including the high streaming singles 'What You Do' and 'Beyond Today', as well as further records from Fickle Friends, Jalle, Flawes, CHERITON, The Valla, Castells, and Harrison Lerner-Main. He has also produced vocals for Griff, and Marshmallo ft. Bastille ('Happier').
